

March 2006

I am delighted to bring to your attention the latest news from the Communication Arena.

One Year On!

This month you will notice some changes on the Arena as we build on its success over the past year. Some new sections introduced include a communication-related news page, a guide on how to submit a journal proposal, a section on Routledge's Affiliated Associations and an updated Books section.

Editor's Focus

New to Routledge this year is the Journal of Intercultural Communication Research, a publication of the World Communication Association. This month James W. Neuliep discusses his editorship and focus within the journal on the dynamics of human symbolic exchange in cultural contexts. JICR is featuring two special offers for new personal subscribers throughout 2006. Visit the Arena for more details.

Regional Communication Association Conventions

Both the Southern States Communication Association and Central States Communication Association are holding their annual conventions from 5-9 April. Routledge will be present at both, so whichever one you are attending, be sure to pay our booth a visit to receive special offers and further information on our Communication Books and Journals.

Keep an eye out!

We shall be introducing further changes to the Arena in the coming months so be sure to revisit soon. In the meantime, if you have any feedback or suggestions, please email them to commarena@tandf.co.uk.

Kind Regards
