

November 2006

First of all, apologies to those of you who had been looking forward to the August, September and October editions of the Communication Arena Newsletter – we were unable to send out the last three eUpdates due to a technical problem which has now been resolved.

This month pay a visit to the Communication Arena and read about:

- The Information, Communication & Society webcast, recorded on 30th October at the Oxford Internet Institute. This webcast was given by William Dutton, co-author of 'Trust in the Internet as an Experience Technology', Volume 9, Number 4, August 2006. Visit our Editor's Focus for further information.
- The Southern Communication Journal has posted a Call for Editor notice. For more information and instructions on how to apply please visit our Call for Papers section.
- We have a new selection of sample articles available online, including: 'Merchant of Mercy, Merchant of Death: How Values Advocacy Messages Influence Jury Deliberations', Amy O'Connor, Journal of Applied Communication Research, Volume 34, Number 3, August 2006
- The Review of Communication and Qualitative Research Reports in Communication are both currently calling for submissions. Visit our Call for Papers section for further information.
- The National Communication Association Conference is taking place from 14-19 November in San Antonio, Texas. This year's theme is Creating Sites for Connection and Action. Visit our Conference pages for more information.

Get in touch

If you know of any communication-related conferences or seminars, please email them to commarena@tandf.co.uk to be added to our map. Please also let us know of any communication graduate or postgraduate courses worldwide that our student visitors may be interested in.

Kind regards
Katie Thompson
Marketing Co-ordinator