Welcome to the July Communication Arena Newsletter. This month visit the Communication Arena to find out more about:

Journals

- Asian Journal of Communication is now accepting submissions via their new Manuscript Central site: <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/rajc>. New users should first create an account and then they will be able to submit their papers electronically.
- Information, Communication and Society has published its first special issue in association with Communication and Information Technologies section of the American Sociological Association. The issue is available here and includes Targets of Online Protest: State and private targets of four online protest tactics by Jennifer Earl; Katrina Kimport.
- Text and Performance Quarterly recently published a special issue - Disability Studies/Performance Studies. Read a selection of articles here by clicking on the 'free access' links.
- Communication Monographs, published by Routledge on behalf of the NCA has seen its 2007 impact factor rise to 1.512, from 0.909 in 2006, and is now ranked 4th in the Communication Category © 2008 Thomson Reuters, Journal Citation Reports®
- We are pleased to announce that our new journal for 2008, Journal of International and Intercultural Communication, has published its second issue. Read the full list of content at the journal's website.
- July Conference of Interest

Discourse Processes is the official publication of the Society for Text and Discourse. Routledge will be present at the Society for Text and Discourse Eighteenth Annual Meeting in Memphis, Tennessee from July 12-15, 2008. The society is an international society of researchers who investigate all aspects of discourse processing and text analysis. A subscription to Discourse Processes is a benefit of society membership. Discourse Processes is a multidisciplinary journal providing a forum for cross-fertilization of ideas from diverse disciplines sharing a common interest in discourse -- prose comprehension and recall, dialogue analysis, text grammar construction, computer simulation of natural language, cross-cultural comparisons of communicative competence, and additional related topics.
