

May 2009

Dear Dr Keshock

Welcome to the May Communication Newsletter. Visit the Communication Arena this month to find out about:

- Calls for Papers

Text and Performance Quarterly will be publishing a special issue on Emergent Poetics in 2010 and the Editor is inviting submissions for this issue.

Information, Communication and Society will be publishing a special issue, Technical Capital and Social Inequalities, which aims to explore systematic ways of conceptualising relations between technologies and inequalities, which transcend their analytical separation.

The Quarterly Journal of Speech has a new editorial policy and the Editor continues to seek submissions which reflect this new focus.

Read more about these Call for Papers.

- Call for Responses

The Editors of Communication Monographs and the Journal of Applied Communication Research are creating a joint forum and co-operatively publishing essays addressing the question 'Has communication research made a difference?'

Submit your response to the debate. Read the Call for Papers.

- Increase in Content

Health Communication, an ISI ranked journal, will publish 8 issues per year, starting in 2009.

For more information visit the News Section.

- Editor's Focus

Journalism Studies and Journalism Practice

This month Bob Franklin, Founding Editor, reviews the latest issues of Journalism Studies and Journalism Practice, highlighting key articles.

Watch the online reviews in this month's Editor's Focus.

- Conference

Look out for a special edition of the Communication Studies newsletter dedicated to the ICA Conference which will be held from 21-25 May at the Chicago Marriott Downtown

Magnificent Mile in Chicago, USA.

- Books
